

SYRCoSE 2025

Spring/Summer Young Researchers' Colloquium on Software Engineering

May 29-31, Pyatigorsk

About SYRCoSE

SYRCoSE is a colloquium on software engineering targeted at young researchers (students, postgraduates, and young PhDs). The main goal of the colloquium is to help young specialists to meet each other, to get more information on work of their colleagues, to exchange their experience, and to practice in presenting their results at international conferences and workshops. In order to establish strong connection with software engineering industry, both research and industrial papers are allowed for submission. We hope that having researchers and practitioners together at the forum will contribute to narrowing the ever-existing gap between theory and practice and increase their mutual awareness of the developments made by others and problems each community is facing.

Topics of Interest

We are interested in original papers on theory and/or applications of software engineering. The topics of interest include but are not restricted to:

- Software Development Processes
- Object-Oriented Analysis and Design
- Programming and Specification Languages
- Component-Based Software
- Distributed and Concurrent Software
- Requirements Engineering
- Visual Modeling
- Reengineering and Reverse Engineering
- Formal Methods
- Quality Assurance
- Software Safety and Security
- Testing, Verification, and Validation
- Hardware High-Level Design and Verification
- Software Development and Analysis Tools
- Software Engineering Education

Paper Submission

We accept papers authored by students, PhD students, or young researchers up to 35 years old. Researchers over this age limit are allowed as co-authors provided that the report is presented by a young author. Papers must be written and presented in English.

We admit original papers of the following types:

• Regular Papers (up to 12 pages)

presenting mature and significant results of completed or almost completed research.

• Research-in-Progress Reports (up to 6 pages)

describing a problem of interest and particular goals of the research, a survey of the related work with analysis of differences between the existing methods and the approach proposed by the authors, a summary of the results achieved, and directions of future work.

• Industrial Papers (up to 9 pages)

demonstrating novel and/or non-trivial applications of software engineering methods.

Every paper regardless of its type will be reviewed by at least 3 members of the Program Committee, and authors will get the reviews together with the notification of acceptance or rejection.

Papers should be written in double-column ACM/IEEE format:

Colloquium Venue

SYRCoSE will be hosted by North-Caucasus Federal University (NCFU).

NCFU is a public university in Stavropol Krai with campuses in Stavropol, Pyatigorsk, and Nevinomyssk. It was established in 2012 as a flagship university of the newly created North Caucasian Federal District by merging Stavropol State University, North-Caucasus State Technical University, and Pyatigorsk State University of Humanities and Technology.
